Manufacturing Process

ELPOZO ALIMENTACION has a main differencing factor, its firm dedication to the consumer. After this maximum, and from its beginnings, it actively worked to create a pioneering Integrated Process Control (IPC), which consists of a traceability system that allows the direct supervision of all activities: from the investigation of the consumers needs and demands, the information derived from the points of sale, the raw materials for the production of animal feed, the farms for breeding and fattening, the transformation, the processing, the sales and the services offered to distribution chains, and the personalised attention to the consumer for the solutions we offer.

Key Differentiating Features

This system, unique in its class, allows ELPOZO to control the most important aspects throughout all the production process, with the aim of guaranteeing the food solutions, which offer nutrition, health, flavour and comfort. Its firm commitment is to nutrition and wellbeing: two concepts that nowadays are entwined together with food. These efforts are centred on the development of solutions which offer consumers a healthy and balanced diet, and an evermore pleasurable one.

ELPOZO ALIMENTACION has made it its goal to see through a sustainable development that allows it to continue generating confidence within its main groups of interest: consumers and clients, employees, institutions, partners and capital.
