Manufacturing Process

Exportation of our own productions and third party's, through a rigorous selection and packaging process, monitored by quality controls of the incoming fruit and during packaging process.

We met the toughest quality assurance and food security protocols of our customers.

We offer large volumes of stone fruit, citrus and grapes, with guarantees of quality, service and food security. We are able to fit our customer's needs and reach their expectations.

Key Differentiating Features

We select varieties best suited to our production environment, enhancing especially those that give greater value to our customers. Our productions are known as very early ripening, so we are able to be the first ones to appear in the markets in which we operate.
